A committee was appointed to draft a bill to regulate advertising, with a view of defining and providing a penalty for the publication of fraudulent advertising matter. Another committee was appointed to work with the municipal legislative committee to obtain the passage of legislation that will permit cities of the first class to make appropriations for the support of advertising bureaus, should it appear that municipal support of such bureaus is now without sanction of the law. A GREAT PIECE OF WORK. The F. and R. Lazarus and Co. Columbus, O., Jan. 27, 1911. Editor of Printers Ink: I cannot help expressing my appreciation of your Annual Review Number. It is a great piece of work, both from an editorial and mechanical standpoint. With best wishes, I am, Ernest S. Jaros, Advertising Manager. Quality, as well as Quantity of circulation is what counts when you advertise machinery, equipment or supplies to the textile field. You want to reach the man who can say Yes. You can do it through the Textile World Record Circulation examined by the A. A. A. This progressive and influential journal is subscribed to, paid for out of their own pockets, and read by officials, managers, superintendents and foremen of the textile mills of the United States and Canada; men who either influence the orders or do the purchasing themselves. These subscribers to the Textile World Record, spend approximately 200, 000, 000 a year for machinery, equipment and supplies. A very...
