They have been brought in sundry classes under the thought of men of all nations, as they have shown by the structure of their languages, and our minds will miss the good of what should be a wit-sharpening exercise, the learning of grammar, if we wilfully keep them out of thought. In Basque the genitive and possessive cases are off-marked by two sundry endings or case-forms, (l-j-e.?) and (l--aren); and in French the two associatives are marked by different prepositions; as, Il se promena avec son pere/ with avec for with; and Il ecrit d une plume/ with de for with. Botanists tell us that there are three or four hundred orders of plants, and more than...
