General Technical Report PNW-GTR-687 Figure 3 - Roy Silen, pictured here during the group interview at Carpenter Lookout, was the first research forester in charge at the H. J. Andrews Experimental Forest (Andrews Forest) from the time it was first established in 1948 until he married Ethel Arthur in 1954 and ac-cepted reassignment in Corvallis, Oregon. This 1997 visit was Silens first return to the Andrews Forest since his marriage. Among other accom-plishments during his earlier career managing the landscape he viewed from this site, Silen laid out the road structure that later encouraged the reten-tion and study of old-growth forest stands at the Andrews Forest. While meeting with the inter-view group in the library conference room at the headquarters building later the same evening, Roy Silen learned that Ethel, his wife of nearly 50 years, had died in an automobile accident in Corvallis. its present form. As a historian...
